

Legal requirements

Privacy statement

You are responsible for any information that you collect via your website, so include a statement that tells users what you will do with any information and email addresses they supply. Limit the amount of data you collect. Also detail your server system and confirm that your statement only covers your site name.

Terms and disclaimer

Display a short statement about what your site provides and who it is for. Also include a short statement to ensure you are clear on the ownership of the content. For example you could say: "the views expressed on this website are not necessarily those of The Scout Association".

Copyright

Add a short statement to claim your ownership of the content that says: "the content on this website is the copyright of the 1st Somewhere Scout Group 2011."